Reading a Book in 5 Minutes
An Experiment

1. What is the main point/argument/contribution of this book?
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________

2. In what manner does the argument proceed?
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________

3. Who is the author and how is he/she qualified to speak on this subject?
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________

4. What has prompted the writing of this book? Is there something to which the author is responding?
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________

5. What would be the best plan of attack if you were to devote more time to this book? Where would you start?
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________

6. Why should you (not) devote more time to this book?
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________